Nominations for the GMLC Community Service Award 2008

The Community Service Award was created with the purpose of recognizing organizations or individuals who are not members of the GMLC and whose primary function is not literacy, but who have been active in supporting the coalition and promoting literacy in the community. The award is not given annually, but rather when a worthy recipient is brought to the attention of the GMLC board.

Nominations for 2008 are open. If you wish to nominate an organization, submit your nomination using the criteria listed below. Please provide enough details about the nominee to give the selection committee a thorough idea of the organization's or person's contributions.

Name of Nominee: _____

Affiliation: _____

Submitted by: _____

Affiliation: _____

Please tell why you think the organization should receive the Community Service Award. Nominees will be rated on a one to ten scale in the following areas:

1. The length of time the organization or individual has been contributing to adult literacy.
2. The degree to which the organization or individual contributes to the literacy community, including the GMLC, to promote the goal of literacy to the community-at-large.
3. The impact the organization's project has on adult literacy.
